

VOX LUCENSIS

Concorso Corale Internazionale

MAY 17-21, 2023 | Lucca, Italy

Sing and experience the Beauty of Toscana

Lucca is an inspiring place, marked by a long history of art and music. The historically important city in the heart of Tuscany has been home to such esteemed artists as Giacomo Puccini, Luigi Boccherini, Alfredo Catalani and Francesco Geminiani.

The second edition of the international choir competition „Vox Lucensis“ is scheduled to take place in the spring of 2023 for four full days, with the sounds of many international choirs from all over the world to fill the historic center of the city of Lucca once again. A mixture of different styles and sounds that will remain in the memory of locals and participants for a long time!
